The Pastor's Corner

Bruce Larson tells of the guide who was hired by some hunters to take them into the backwoods of Maine. After some days, they became hopelessly lost and quite naturally began to doubt the competence of their guide. "You said you were the best guide in Maine," they reminded him. "I am," he said, "but I think we're in Canada now." You are no longer a "guide" when you yourself are lost. It is just as hard to decipher our Christian identity when we cannot recall what it is that makes us Christians in the first place.

For those of us who would be followers of Christ, the most basic question we need to ask ourselves is "What is a Christian?" We are living in a world where there is now virtually a "Christian" everything. Look around you. There are now Christian Counseling Centers, Christian Comedy Clubs, Christian Dance Clubs, Christian Athletes, Christian Coalitions, Christian Bookstores etc. In the Christian Yellow Pages, you can find Christian schools, Christian plumbers, Christian doctors, Christian bakers, Christian bankers, and even Christian lawyers.

The church is no different; we have Christian Pentecostals, Christian evangelicals, Christian Liberals, Christian Conservatives, Mainstream Christians, Christian Charismatics, and the list can go on and on.

Baptist minister and writer Gordon MacDonald many years ago in a moment of frustration said, "I have had it with the word 'Christian'! It hardly means a thing any longer". He began to term himself as a Christ follower. At the time he was criticized and looked at with suspicion in some theological circles.

In ministry, I have been confronted by those who have examined my theology and called it too evangelical, I have had others in the community look at that same theology and call it too liberal. It causes me to ask myself how the Christian faith can be described in so many ways?

Why is it dangerous to regularly use the word Christian as an adjective? It's back to fourth-grade elementary school. What do adjectives do? They modify nouns. Adjectives modify things that are larger and more important than they are. Adjectives limit nouns; they qualify nouns; they distinguish nouns. Adjectives are ornaments and lights you hang on nouns so that nouns become more alive and meaningful.

It stems from the fact that using the word Christian as an adjective minimizes its meaning. The word "Christian" began as a noun, not as an adjective. The word, used three times in the New Testament, means literally "disciple of Christ."

When we make our faith an adjective, it becomes very easy to make the dangerous step of beginning to believe that our brand of the faith is the only valid flavor. But the truth, is we are not Christian Pentecostals, we are not Christian Evangelicals, we are not Christian Liberals, we are not Christian Conservatives, we are not Mainstream Christians, we are not Christian Charismatics, we are not Christian men or women, we are not Christian scholars, we are not Christian parents, we are not Christian patriots, we are Christians. Period!

Food for thought...Pastor Todd

"Do all the good you can,
By all the means you can,
In all the ways you can,
In all the places you can,
At all the times you can,
To all the people you can,
As long as ever you can."

— John Wesley

Mission Committee Notes:

Calling all Condiments!

Bethel is collecting condiments for Mason Dixon through May 22nd. Examples are: mustard, ketchup, mayo, salad dressing, sauces, pickles, olives, etc. Regular sized (not jumbo or super-sized) items are best, as some clients don't have access to storage or refrigeration. You can leave them in the sanctuary or the church office.

Sweet Puffcorn

Submitted by Marianna Putnam

Ingredients

- One 1-pound package vanilla-flavored almond bark (you could also use chocolate)
- Two 3 1/2-ounce bags of Chester's Butter Puffcorn (not cheese!)

Directions (makes about 9 & 1/2 cups)

Melt almond bark in microwave-safe bowl in 30-second increments. Place the puffcorn in a large bowl. Pour the melted almond bark over the puffcorn and mix well.

Spread mixture out onto parchment paper in a single layer and let set about 10 minutes.

Store in an airtight container. If left uncovered for too long, the puffcorn will get soggy. Enjoy!

Easter at Bethel

What a wonderful time we had celebrating Holy Week at Bethel! We held a Maundy Thursday service, a Good Friday service with Norrisville United Methodist, and a special Easter Vigil. The congregation enjoyed a sunrise service on Sunday, followed by an Easter Breakfast and Egg Hunt, and then our Easter Sunday Worship. We are grateful that we could celebrate this Holy Week together.

He is Risen!

Thank You!

Melissa McDade shared this thank you note. This is a family that we helped back in the fall, and they came to pitch in at the sunflower fields in October. Now, they're paying it forward!

Upcoming Events

Upcoming Cemetery Tours:

The Cemetery Committee has come up with a list of tentative dates for cemetery tours through October. The dates will be:
5/15, 6/12, 7/10, 8/14, 9/18, 10/16.

There was great interest in the church itself at the tour on 4/10 so Donna will add a tour of the church after the cemetery tour for anyone interested.

Donna is also looking for any "actors" who would like to join us or at least back ups in case someone can't make a particular date so be on the lookout for anyone interested-not necessarily have to be church members. Any thoughts or suggestions are welcome!

National Day of Prayer is May 5th

The sanctuary will be open for prayer from 10-2. Devotionals will be provided.

Children's Sunday is May 22nd

This will be the last day of Sunday School and the children will get their Sunday School Awards.

Flea Market

Bethel will be hosting a Flea Market on Saturday, June 18th from 8 am to 2 pm. (Lot will be open at 6:30 am for setup.) Contact the church office for more information.
